WELCOME FROM THE COOK COUNTY TRAUMA UNIT CHAIRMAN
The Cook County Trauma Symposium was conceived as a learning & teaching crucible for physicians and other health-care professionals interested in injury. The trauma/burn practitioners at Cook County firmly believe in an egalitarian model of learning. Evidence-based, cutting edge concepts taught by specialists in an interactive environment should lead to exemplary care for patients. We believe that bringing together thinking individuals of different specialties will help find ways to deliver effective and efficient, yet compassionate care. We welcome this opportunity to meet and get to know you and learn from each other.

Sincerely,

Faran Bokhari, MD FACS

THE COOK COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF
TRAUMA AND BURN SERVICES:
The Cook County Trauma Unit is America’s first comprehensive Trauma Center. The highly-focused and dedicated Cook County Trauma team provides extensive care to an estimated 5,500 patients annually, including pediatric and burn patients. Trauma is a leading department within the Cook County Health and Hospitals System. The department focuses on teaching medical students and residents on the complexities of taking care of the most critically injured patients.

As the busiest Trauma Center in the State of Illinois, the team has eight attending Trauma and Burn Surgeons and specially trained Trauma nurses that are dedicated to giving patients the best chance for recovery following their injuries.

The Cook County Trauma Unit provides a continuum of care for all seriously injured trauma patients, beginning in the pre-hospital and resuscitation phases, through operative, post-operative, or post-injury care and continuing on to the outpatient and rehabilitation settings. All phases of care are represented among our medical staff. The patient is cared for by the same team of physicians from the initial encounter in the resuscitation area throughout the hospital stay. Continuing the theme of comprehensive care, the same trauma nursing team works in the resuscitation, observation, and intensive care areas.

RUSH UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER:
Rush is a not-for-profit academic medical center comprising Rush University Medical Center, Rush University, Rush Oak Park Hospital and Rush Health. Rush University Medical Center encompasses a 664-bed hospital serving adults and children, including the Johnston R. Bowman Health Center, which provides medical and rehabilitative care to older adults and people with short- and long-term disabilities. Rush just opened a new 376-bed hospital building, known as the Tower, which is part of the Medical Center’s major renovation of its campus. This renovation also includes Rush’s Orthopedic Building, which opened in 2010.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of the Cook County Trauma Unit at the John H. Stroger, Jr. Hospital of Cook County and the Chicago Medical Society. The Chicago Medical Society is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Chicago Medical Society designates this live activity for a maximum of 10 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s). Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Desired Learning Outcomes: At the conclusion of this CME activity, the participants should be able to:

- Manage critically injured patients in accordance with scientifically based guidelines to effectively manage shock and head, spine, abdominal-pelvic and burn injury.
- Manage critically injured elderly patients in accordance with scientifically based algorithms.
- Effectively access difficult airways and rapidly perform ultrasonographic examinations of critically injured patients for improved patient management.

- The target audience is Emergency Medicine Physicians, Intensivists, Surgeons, Nurses and Paramedics. In the conference evidence based guidelines and scientific data will be used to help participants improve management of trauma, especially when involving elderly, burn, head injury, spine injury, abdominal-pelvic injury and shock resuscitation.

- The participants will improve their skills in the management of traumatic airway access & performance of ultrasound in trauma to diagnose and effectively treat injuries. Scientifically based algorithms will improve airway access and the diagnoses of injury using ultrasound.

- The following planning members of the Chicago Medical Society have disclosed that they have no relevant financial relationships with any commercial interests: Vicki Becker, MD Chairman, CME Committee, Roger Rodrigues, MD, CME Committee Member, Bapu Arekapudi, MD, CME Committee, and Cecilia Merino, Director of Education.

- The following planning members of the Cook County Trauma Unit at the John H. Stroger, Jr. Hospital have disclosed that they have no relevant financial relationships with any commercial interests: Faran Bokhari, MD, Course Director and Co-Director Kimberly Nagy, MD.

- All the speakers have disclosed that they do not have any relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. The exception is Dr. Szatkowski. Dr. Szatkowski has disclosed that he is an author and course director for Orthobullets.com.
